

Cache Winter

January 25, 2020

Traveled through dense, cold fog.
I heard dump trucks I couldn't see.
Taste of green pear with arugula, goat cheese, and candied pecans.
Sticky cherry coke foaming over my fingers.

I heard dump trucks I couldn't see.
Cache Valley drivers can't count to four.
Sticky cherry coke foaming over my fingers.
Gray-white shrinking piles of snowy cover.

Cache Valley drivers who can't count to four.
People talking in low voices, sharing thoughts or keeping secrets.
Gray-white shrinking piles of snowy cover.
But aha! The bus is running a half an hour earlier now.
